

January 10th, 2020

My name is Adrian Amigo Portilla with ID number 91032827984, I'm a friend of Josué E. Gonzalez Osoria since 2017. When he visited the capital for working reasons he always commented to me about the family and social pressure that he felt due to his sexual preference and also pressures at his work as a result of his political opinion and absence to the government activities scheduled by the company he belonged to.

In Cuba homophobia joins threats to people with thoughts different to the government's lines and it is extensive to a national level being stronger in rural little towns where people are conservative and traditional which makes it easier for the government to control. I always suggested to my friend that he should move to Havana to get away from these fears and pressures he was facing in his town.

In 2019 he asked me to join him at the police station as he had to present himself and he was afraid to be alone. When we arrived he was taken inside and I waited for him till the afternoon when an officer informed me that I should leave because Josue was gonna take some time to get out and he was in detention that night cause he was under investigation. The next day I went to visit Jose and I saw a mouth injury on him, he told me he was beaten and threatened. In the following days my friend bought a plane ticket and got out of the country due to the unsecurity he was facing.

Sincerely,

Adrian Amigo Portilla

March 23rd, 2020

My name is Adrian Amigo Portilla with ID number 91032827984, I'm a friend of Josué E. Gonzalez Osoria since 2017. When he visited the capital for working reasons he always commented to me about the family and social pressure that he felt due to his sexual preference and also pressures at his work as a result of his political opinion and absence to the government activities scheduled by the company he belonged to.

In Cuba homophobia joins threats to people with thoughts different to the government's lines and it is extensive to a national level being stronger in rural little towns where people are conservative and traditional which makes it easier for the government to control. I always suggested to my friend that he should move to Havana to get away from these fears and pressures he was facing in his town.

In 2019 he asked me to join him at the police station as he had to present himself and he was afraid to be alone. When we arrived he was taken inside and I waited for him till the afternoon when an officer informed me that I should leave because Josue was gonna take some time to get out and he was in detention that night cause he was under investigation. The next day I went to visit Jose and I saw a mouth injury on him, he told me he was beaten and threatened. In the following days my friend bought a plane ticket and got out of the country due to the unsecurity he was facing.

Sincerely,

Adrian Amigo Portilla